Subject: FW: Research Report

Dear all

Please see response from the Student Rights Group. You can access the report from the link below. It's not exactly a rigorous piece of academic research!

It appears to consist of looking at a few Twitter and Facebook accounts in the Kingston case this was someone who 'liked' or 'shared' a few articles that looked as the Islamic approach to economics and other subjects with a very tenuous link to Hitzbut Tahrir.

I don't think much of their reason for not approaching us for a comment – i.e. “we were keen that the findings in the report be something we could work together on” – all the more reason to speak to us I would have thought!

Anyway, the report might help your response from the Students' Union point of view, Redacted.

Best wishes

Dear Redacted,

I am sorry that you were unable to access a copy of our report, it appears that there was a technical error which prevented the webpage from showing on the website. This has now been resolved and you can find a copy of the report at http://www.studentrights.org.uk/article/1919/challenging\_extremists\_practical\_frameworks\_for\_our\_universities

We were planning on sending hard copies to all the relevant stakeholders and policy makers later on this week. If you could provide me with an address to send this to I will ensure that you receive that. With regards to contacting you for comment we were keen that the findings in the report be something we could work together on, and would be happy to meet with the relevant members of staff at their convenience to discuss the report.

Hope this helps, if you need any more information please feel free to contact me at Redacted email address.

Kind Regards

Student rights group
